Dear Colleague,

We would value your insights as we explore the future of access to research and scholarly services.

SHARE YOUR OPINIONS IN A SURVEY

More than 60 countries collaboratively operate a global federated identity infrastructure that enables scholars, researchers, students, and staff to login to academic resources and services. This infrastructure helps to enable research and scholarly activities by giving users a simple single sign-on experience using their home institution credentials.

The international organisation representing this global effort, called REFEDS, is undertaking a strategic review of how the global identity infrastructure affects individuals and what circumstances may arise over the next 10-15 years that operators of this global infrastructure should anticipate and prepare for. Please share your input via the following survey, which should take about 20 minutes:

Some additional times may be offered in the second half of May: check the Working Group page for more details.

AND SHARE WITH OTHERS

We also ask that you forward this request to others you think may have a perspective on this topic, either as a user, a planner, or an enabler.

We hope to have your responses by the end of May.

Thank you very much!
