18/06/21	"[Identity Providers] MAY release the attribute bundle defined in 4 to all Service Providers which assert this category by default, or only f or Service Providers which assert the entity category and with which they have an agreement." I wonder what purpose the support-EC then serves if it allows IDPs to be spec-compliant even when only releasing the respective attribute bundles to a locally selected (and unknown to anyone else) (sub-)set of services (possibly empty). I.e., I could immediately claim all our IDPs to be compliant with both support categories -- they just might have different views on whom they have agreements with (or what this phrase means)?	Annoymous and Pseudonymous	Peter Schober, Aconet
